

Tell Me Something about Buddhism: A Half-Day Together

with Rev. Zenju Earthlyn Manuel

Open to All

A message from the teacher: When one enters the gate of Buddha's path an exploration of life begins. You begin to live life as an inquiry. You are invited to come and ask the questions you have about Buddhist practice and to begin a path of discovery within your life. What would your life be like if you approached everything with a beginner's mind? Come and let's discover something new about what we think we know. We will begin with meditation, a brief talk, and then an open sanctuary for a group practice discussion. My new book, Tell Me Something about Buddhism, will be available for purchase and signing.

Zenju Earthlyn Manuel, visual artist, Congolese drummer and Zen Priest is the author of the book Tell Me Something about Buddhism, foreword by Thich Nhat Hanh (Hampton Road Publishing). She is a contributing author to Turning Wheel magazine of the Buddhist Peace Fellowship, Together We Are One (Parallax) by Thich Nhat Hanh, Dharma, Color, and Culture: New Voices in Western Buddhism (Parallax) and "What Unknowing Things Know: The Zen Liberation in the Art of Romare Bearden" in the International Review of African American Art. (www.zenjuearthlynmanuel.com, and Tell Me Something About Buddhism on Facebook)

Saturday, Nov. 5, 2011

9:30 am – 1 pm

East Bay Meditation Center

www.eastbaymeditation.org

2147 Broadway, Oakland, CA 94612

(near the 19th Street BART station in downtown Oakland)

Space is limited & registration is required. Register at www.eastbaymeditation.org or email admin@eastbaymeditation.org for registration information.

Cost: The teachings are regarded as priceless. So they are offered without a fee. You are invited to support the teachings and our efforts by contributing voluntary donations (the practice of "Dana") for the expenses of the meditation center and the support of the teachers.

In order to protect the health of community members with environmental illness, please do not wear fragranced products (including "natural" fragrances) or clothes laundered in fragranced products to EBMC.