ORIGINAL MEDICINE BRAIDING BUDDHIST PRACTICE WITH INDIGENOUS WISDOM

WITH CAROL CANO

Indigenous societies recognize individuals holding their personal power as original medicine. In this series, we will explore ways to come into our original medicine from a cross-cultural braiding of Buddhist practice with indigenous wisdom. Through this practice, we enhance our personal growth and build deeper relationships with self and each other, and a long-term commitment to the intentional community of EBMC.

We will begin by expanding our relationship with mother earth as she goes through her cycles of change. Our hope is to build a community of shared spiritual belonging and liberation.

WORKING WITH JUDGMENTS

WITH DONALD ROTHBERG AND SHAHARA GODFREY

Judgments of a reactive and compulsive nature are very strong in most of our lives. They can distort our perceptions, make relationships with others difficult, and undermine our work in the world. We may also internalize the prevailing judgments of our society related to race, gender, sexual orientation, employment status, etc. We will explore the nature of judgments and how to transform them, using mindfulness and lovingkindness practices, inquiry, and role-play. These will help us to transform the energy of judgments — preserving the intelligence often found in judgments, while working through the destructive aspects of judgments. Optional monthly follow-up sessions.

SATURDAY FEBRUARY 21 9:30AM–1:00PM

GOING DEEPER IN THE DHARMA A GROUP FOR COMMITTED PRACTITIONERS

WITH MUSHIM

The second of the Five Hindrances that may supposedly mess up our meditation is ill will or malice (vy□p□da). (The remaining hindrances are sensual desire; sloth and torpor; restless and anxiety or worry; and skeptical doubt.) By playfully making friends with our hindrances, quietly watching as they arise and dissolve, our minds become more alert, generous and non-reactive, and we become more deeply acquainted with the causes of true happiness and stability.

A "committed practitioner" is one who does not need instructions in sitting or walking/movement meditation, but who already has an established practice of any kind of meditation that can be done in silence and, during the sitting meditation periods, in stillness.

SURVIVAL, RESISTANCE & RESILIENCY DAYLONG FOR MEN OF COLOR

LED BY EBMC'S MEN OF COLOR DEEP REFUGE GROUP

Through Drumming, Meditation, Movement, and Discussion, we will explore the subtle components of our Masculine energy. Observing the components of Survival, Resistance and Resiliency we will endeavor to uncover areas of our conditioned patterns in order to refine and reconnect to our True Nature as men. Navigating the world on our own, we will never be our best; therefore, we invite you to join us in Community, as we collectively connect and cultivate a deeper understanding of what it means to be Mindful Men of Color.

PRACTICING WITH SEXUAL ENERGY: PRESENCE, PRECEPTS AND POWER

FOR LGBTQI COMMUNIȚIES

WITH REV. KEIRYU LIÊN SHUTT AND REV. DAIGAN GAITHER

What is it to stay upright in the midst of sexual energy? How do we not turn away from our experience or ourselves in the present moment? We will explore our intention to "not misuse sexuality" and how it both informs our practice and our sexual choices within the context of homophobia. How do we relate to desire in healthy and respectful ways, both for ourselves and with others? Are we using our energies or are they using us?

Join us as we explore what it means to practice while maintaining a healthy relationship to our sexual lives.
